CORONER'S JURY RETURNS VERDICTS IN ACCIDENT CASES

Aggressiveness and Booze
Given as the Cause of
One Death

OTHER POSSIBLY CONFUSED

Coroner Heffran held two inquests at the office of Lawrence B. Frye, Fallowfield avenue, Friday night, to inquire into the manner of the deaths of Pasquale Urso, and of Norman C. Stange both of whom were killed by street cars during the week.

The Urso inquest was first taken up. Urso died from injuries received at the Rostraver stop on the Belle Vernon car line, when run over by a street car last Sunday night. Considerable testimony was presented, the principal features of which were that Pasquale Urso and his brother were intoxicated when they got on the car and that, after being put off by the conductor and motorman, attempted to assault them with switch irons. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned the following verdict:

We find that Pasquale Urso came to his death at the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, August 20, from shock due to injuries received when run over by a street car near East Charleroi, on the Monessen-Belle Vernon street car line. We find further that the accident was due to the aggressive and disorderly conduct of said Pasquale Urso who with his brother attempted to assault the conductor and motorman and in so doing fell from the car. We find further that the conductor and motorman were in no way responsible.

In the case of Norman S. Stange, of Monongahela, who was killed Tuesday night a great deal of testimony was introduced. The principal witnesses were George C. Catlin of Monongahela and the motorman in charge of the car. Mr. Catlin was waiting with Mr. Stange to board the car for Monongahela. He testified that Mr. Stange, seeing the car coming, and possible being under the impression that the car would not stop, stepped out on the track to hail the motorman. The car suddenly swerved on to the switch and before Mr. Stange could get out of the way he was run down and killed.

The motorman, Mr. Leahy, testified to conditions on the night of the accident.

He had stopped at Tenth street to discharge passengers and then started for the barn. When two car lengths from the point of the switch he turned of his power and applied the brakes. The wheels locked, and due to a shabby rail the car slid along past the switch, but stopped just as it reached the car barn entrance. After hearing all evidence the jury returned the following verdict:

We find that Norman G. Stange came to his death at Charleroi, August 22, from shock as the result of being run over by a street car of the Pittsburgh Railway company, said car being operated by motorman Leahy and conductor Graysaucher. We further find that the accident was probably due to confusion on the part of Mr. Stange in believing the car was not going to stop, and stepping out on the track to hail it. We find further that the car approached the switch at a greater speed than usual, due to the wheels locking when the brakes were applied, causing the car to slide as a result of wet and greasy rails.

DINNER IN HONOR TO LIEUTENANT WAGNER

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Emrick entertained at a six o'clock dinner at their home on McKean avenue, Friday evening in honor to Lieutenant James Wagner, parents of the honor guest. Place cards and floral decorations were in the National colors. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner, parents of the honor guest, and Miss Ruth Cook. Lieut. Wagner who is with the Quartermaster's Division is spending a short furlough with his parents.

INSTITUTE TO OPEN MONDAY

Strong Array of Instructors Will Take Part In the Program

OPEN MEETING TUESDAY EV'G.

The Fifth annual session of the Tri-District Teachers' Institute of the districts of Monongahela, Charleroi and Donora, will be held in the First Presbyterian church, Monongahela, beginning next Monday at 1:30 o'clock p. m.

After devotional exercises and an address of welcome by the President of Monongahela school board, Miss Margaret Lynch of Larchmont, N. Y., will make an address on Conservation and Dr. E. R. Bryan of Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y., will make the concluding talk of the afternoon.

The Tuesday session as well as those of other days, will begin at 9:15 a. m. Tuesday evening a public session will be held, to which all interested are invited. At this session Miss Power a reader will give Indian Ketches, while Dr. Bryan will make an address on "When the World will be Safe for Democracy." This is spoken of as a powerful address and should be heard by hundreds of people.

Throughout the four-day session there will be interesting phases of school work presented by the various instructors, Miss Lynch, Dr. Bryan and Dr. Breasted of the University of Chicago, who will speak at various times on "Archaeological Discoveries and History." In addition Miss Power, a reader has been placed on the program which is particularly strong this year.

The officers of the Institute are, Prof. T. L. Pollock of Charleroi, President; Prof. T. M. Gilland of Donora, secretary and Prof. R. G. Dean of Monongahela, treasurer.

Evan C. Kelley and daughter Miss Mattie of McKean avenue went to Oak Park, W. Va., to attend the Kelley family reunion today.

NO NAMES WILL BE PUBLISHED UNTIL FULL QUOTA IS SECURED

NEWLY APPOINTED OFFICERS
GUESTS OF MRS. W. H. HIGH

Mrs. William High entertained at a dinner party at the B. P. O. Elks home Tuesday evening, in honor of Lieutenants, John Gaur, Carroll Gaur, James Wagner and John Piersol, all of Charleroi, who recently completed the officer's training course at Fort Niagara. A color scheme of red white and blue was carried out in the decorations. Each honor guest as well as H. S. Piersol, George W. Wagner, Dr. H. E. Sloan, Dr. V. P. Vieslet and Roland W. Brown gave interesting talks.

Will be at Least Two Weeks Before Board Completes Work

HALF OF NUMBER OBTAINED

The names of those who have been passed by the Board of the Fifth District for the new National Army, will not be published until the full quota of the county has been obtained unless the government should make a call for the first draft of 30 per cent of the registrants who have passed.

This statement was made by John O. Watson, chairman of the Board of the Fifth District, in reply to a question propounded by a Mail representative Friday evening. So far as any call is concerned, he said the local board had no information and until such time as the government shall make the request for one third of the quota, no names will be made public.

The Mail has been in receipt of many inquiries as to who had passed the examination and been accepted, but as the Board is not giving out names, it was impossible to answer the question. The statement from Mr. Watson published above must satisfy all inquirers until the quota has been obtained, when names will be published.

The Board will resume sessions on Tuesday, when the examination of additional registrants will begin, and which will continue over Thursday.

WOMEN NOW WORKING AS "NAVIES" ON THE RAILROAD

The first section gang of women has been placed at work on the New Castle terminal of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad. The gang consists of seven girls and women, and all go about their work clad in overalls.

NEW STEEL COMPANY LIGHTS FIRES TOMORROW

The Denite Steel company, located at New Eagle, placed fires in their furnaces today. The old Robinson Machine company plant which the company took over, has been extensively repaired, and will be utilized in the manufacture of high grade steel. A number of skilled workmen will be given employment.

School and Borough Taxes

ANNEX TO COUNTY HOME COMPLETED

At a total cost of $200,000 the new annex erected during the summer on the north side of the County home buildings at Arden has been completed. The architect has pronounced the work throughout complete and up to the specifications.

The building covers a space of 164 feet in length and 38 feet wide. The ground floor is divided into three sections the dining room for the male inmates being in the west end, and in the east a dining room for the women. In the middle section is the kitchen which makes it very easy to serve the inmates at meal time with a minimum amount of labor and time.

On the second floor are two wards, one at each end to be used as sleeping quarters for men. In this section also a doctor's room, operating room, medicine repository and other smaller rooms.

The third floor is divided into sleeping rooms for the male help at the home other than inmates. Toilet rooms have been installed on all three floors with bath rooms and other conveniences. The building will be heated by steam, the plant being already installed. The structure throughout is lighted both by gas and electricity.

Mr. and Mrs. William Neill, of Donora, have announced the wedding of their daughter Miss Agnes L. Neill, to Edward S. Michener, of Charleroi. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Maxwell B. Houck, at his home in Finleyville, Pa. Wednesday evening, March 21st, 1917. Mr. and Mrs. Michener will reside at 738 Washington avenue, Charleroi. The secret of the wedding was well kept until the last few days, not even the intimate friends of the young couple being let into the secret.

Mrs. Earl Nicholson and Mrs. Roy James visited at Fredericktown over Saturday.

The Bicycle.
 From the best accounts it appears that the first bicycle--meaning by the term a two wheeled machine for human locomotion--was made in France about the year 1815. This pioneer machine was a very awkward affair, consisting of a couple of heavy wooden wheels of equal diameter, one behind the other and joined together by a longitudinal wooden bar on which the rider's seat was fixed, the mode of propulsion being the pushing of the feet against the ground. Not for fifty years was any real progress made. In 1860 the machine with the big driving wheel with the little hind wheel was introduced by Michaux of Paris, and a few years later came the "safety" with both wheels many improvements. Is the machine we have today.

Head of the Family.
 "Are you head of the family?" "Not exactly," replied Mr. Meekton. "My position is rather that of the man higher up, who gets blamed when anything goes wrong."--Washington Star.

POVERTY OF WEALTH.

There Are Many, Many Things That Money Cannot Buy.

If you have wealth you can purchase a hundred outfits of wearing apparel, but you can only wear one at a time. Socrates never owned but one pair of shoes, but his name is immortal. If you have wealth you can purchase beautiful paintings and adorn your home with statues. That wouldn't bring you happiness. If you have wealth you can purchase furniture to last with gold and silver-plated with fine fabrics. That doesn't mean contentment.

If you have wealth you can purchase a great park and erect a splendid mansion, but tradition tells us that there was a very happy man who lived in a hut and asked what he could do for the king. Dogenes replied, "That you could step from between me and the sun." If you have wealth you can possess an organ with golden pipes, but Beethoven composed his immortal symphonies on a cheap harpsichord. If you have wealth you can equip a studio, but Turner painted in a garret and moved his colors in a box.

Money can purchase copies of Sir Joshua Reynolds, but God gives the master away free. Money can employ musicians to perform for a private concert, but the song of the lark in the tree and the music of children's laughter is for the millionaire and the poor man alike. Wealth cannot purchase the great things of life. It cannot buy a contented mind and a serene life. It cannot purchase goodness and beauty. —Dale H. Carnegie in Leshe's.

CURBING THE MISSISSIPPI.

Father of Waters at Times Becomes an Unwelcome Guest.

When the Father of Waters comes to town with all his family, as he does every ten or eleven years, we hope at some near time hereafter to exert a control over our visitor through the many millions congress has provided. The Father of Waters himself is a genial old friend on most occasions, but when he comes down the valley with the swollen Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Platte, Kaw and innumerable other streams on his back St. Louis nuds him like an intoxicated guest, hard to manage and utterly unwelcome.

Old Mississippi is to be made to take a more circumspect path and not stagger all over the adjacent country. In fact, we do not wish him to stop at all, but hurry through and begone with him to the gulf as fast as he can make his way. Most of our water is believed to come from the gulf of Mexico, and we wish to return it after we have used all we can by absorption. We are no gluttons, and enough Mississippi's enough. We adore it "fourteen feet through the valley," but not forty-two. We are not yet entirely familiar with the plans by which flood control is to be brought about, but we judge that the river is to be compelled to act with more deliberation in its rising and falling, which is the best thing that can be done until man finds a way to starve or cut loose the reins.—St. Louis Globe Democrat

Spend Money Wisely.

Says a prominent New York banker. "It is more important to know how to spend money wisely than to earn it easily. If you want to give your boy and girl a good start teach them both the fine art of thrift. And what is thrift? Thrift is all of prudence, economy, frugality and industry—and then some. Thrift is that instinct of the dog that buries the bone he does not want today for tomorrow's wants, the instinct of the squirrel that buries nutting is out of season in winter. And there is thrift of earning power and thrift of spending as well as thrift of saving."

People of the Virgin Islands.

It is said that between 80 and 90 per cent of the people of the Virgin Islands, formerly the Danish West Indies, are pure black. The rest of them are white. There are very few mulattoes, for the race there is more strictly drawn than in the West Indies. The white people themselves on their low pretensions to whiteness. Only about 25 per cent of the population are of the blood of the Virgin Islands and Porto Rico. The inhabitants of the former are mostly English and the latter are mostly white. These two races are the only ones who are of the blood of the Virgin Islands. The island of St. Thomas is the most important, and most of the ships are stationed at home. Ninety per cent of the population is in the towns. Fishing is the chief agricultural pursuit. There are men reported to own a fine island outside of the towns.—New York Post.

"The Valkyrie of the Piano."

Teresa Carreno was an extraordinary artist, and the appellation commonly linked with her name failed to do justice to the softer, gentler, more intimate aspects of her art. She was one of the few musical artists of South America who have attained the international standards of Europe and the United States, which demand a patient submission to drudgery on the part of genius itself. Mme. Carreno, a native of Venezuela and composer of the national anthem of that country, was a fiery mettle as artist and as woman, and her temper was quickly mollified on occasion. But her playing was electric and inspiring and her personality would have made her a standing figure in any gathering without the voice of the piano to speak for her.—Philadelphia Record
